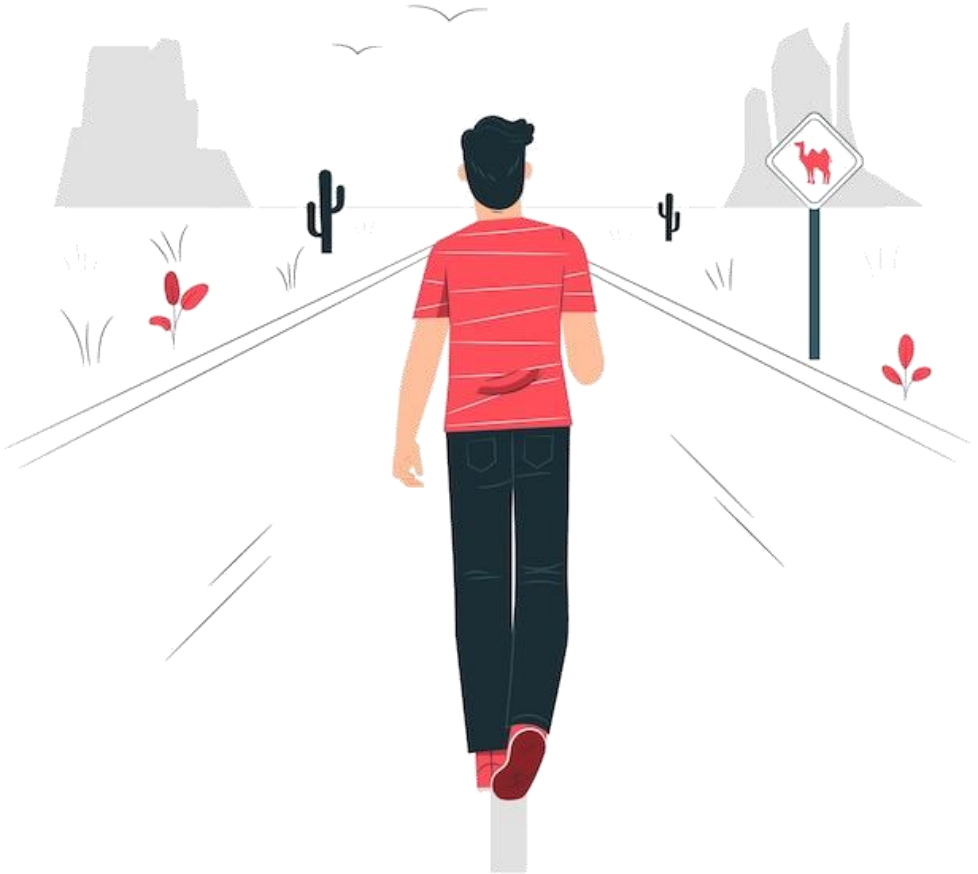
And then, the tempter came

- I will tell you crazy stories.
- They are all true.
- You can be a story too, granted you are “free”.

“Sean Penn once said…”

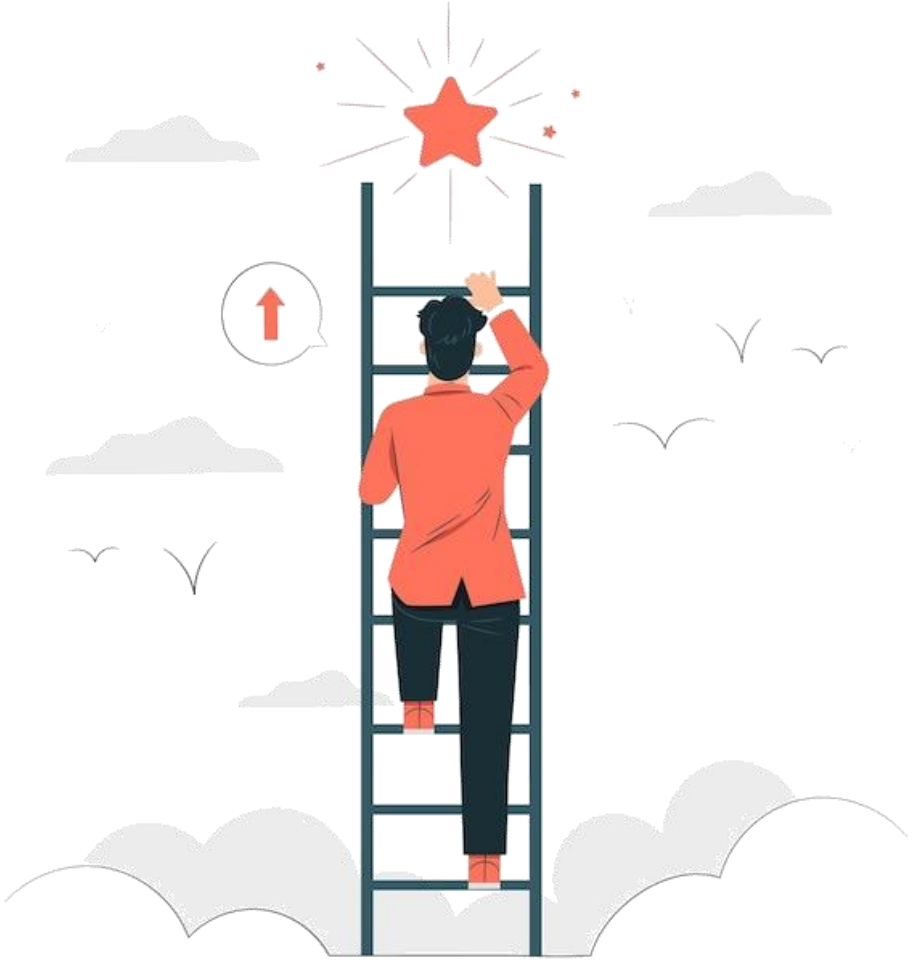
Worldhood One

“We understand our world and everything in it when we are no longer consumed in our own affairs”



Worldhood Two

“We don’t understand our world and everything in it when we are consumed in our own affairs”



What is evil?

"Being condemned to pursue a powerless existence within the borders of someone else's notion of reality"

What is goodness?

- Everything else.

The never-ending war
between «what's within» and «what's in-between»
NORM
We are at the very center of this conflict... turning
one into another!

What if I told you
you can easily change
who you are
your community
your world
your reality
you don't need
expertise
investment
membership
network
citizenship
you don't have to compromise
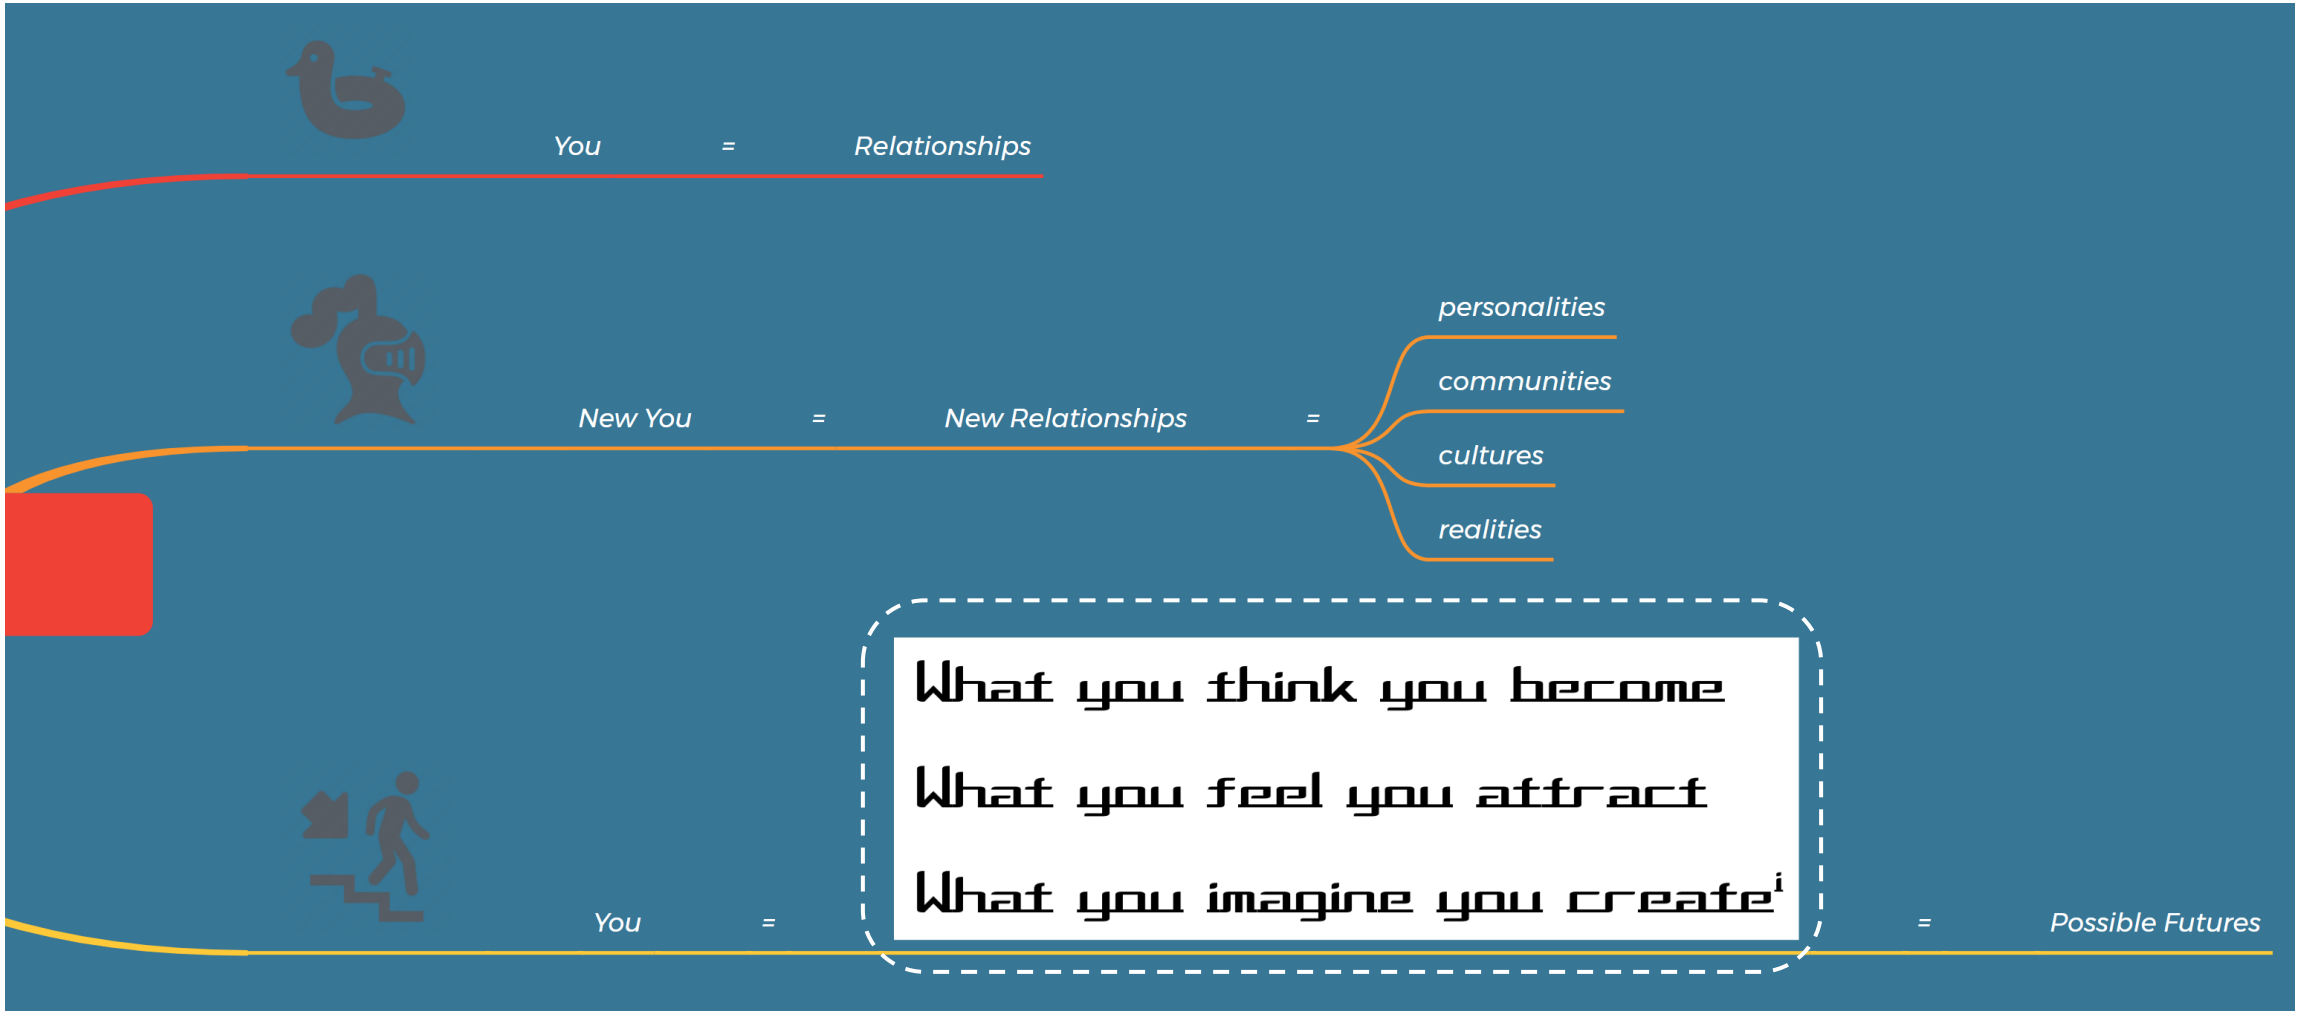
adapt
take crap
submit



You = Relationships
New You = New Relationships = personalities
communities
cultures
realities
What you think you become
What you feel you attract
What you imagine you create[i]
You =
= Possible Futures

Zeroth Question

You have found an absurdity!

You must make it intelligible by finding presuppositions that make it intelligible to others.

You must uncover your block to understanding by finding presuppositions that make it absurd.

Now, that you understand both notions of reality You should find your subjects

Subject is a diminished human being enslaved in a bpi universe

BPI means understanding being within the borders of efficient interactions

That you are either an agent or an entity

Living in this context means

providing services

and consuming services in return

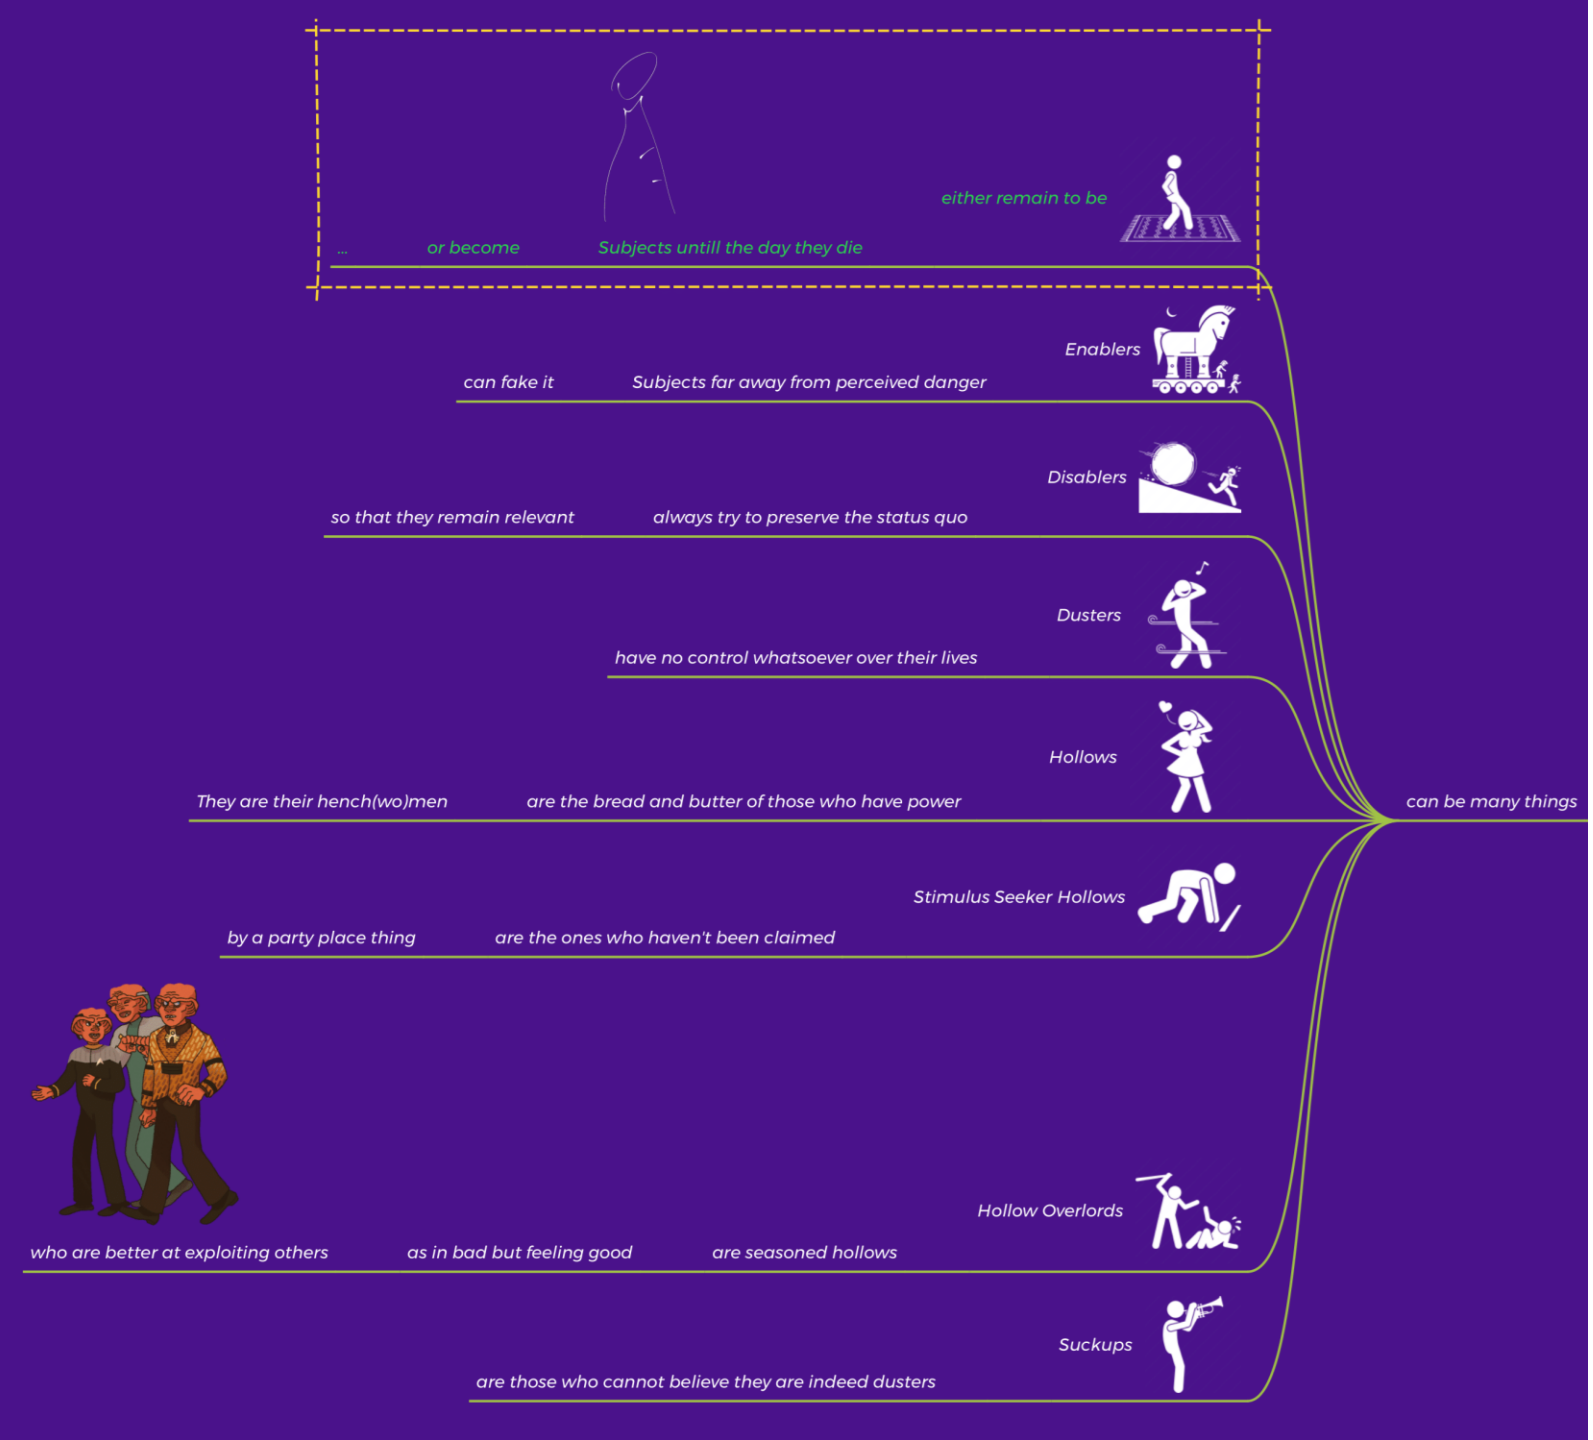
Hopeless it may seem

yet a few can save themselves from eternal damnation



You already know where that road ends

Techno Politics is Good for You

- Yes, the problem is you!
  - You plus software is so much better.
  - Don’t panic! I will show you how.

dwell on mistakes get stuck in the past stop believing in themselves expect fast results

believe in their weaknesses give up their power resist change fear the future

feel they have something to lose never visualize what is possible fear failure more than desire success feels the world owes them something

feel sorry for themselves see failure as the signal to turn back assume their problems are unique overwork

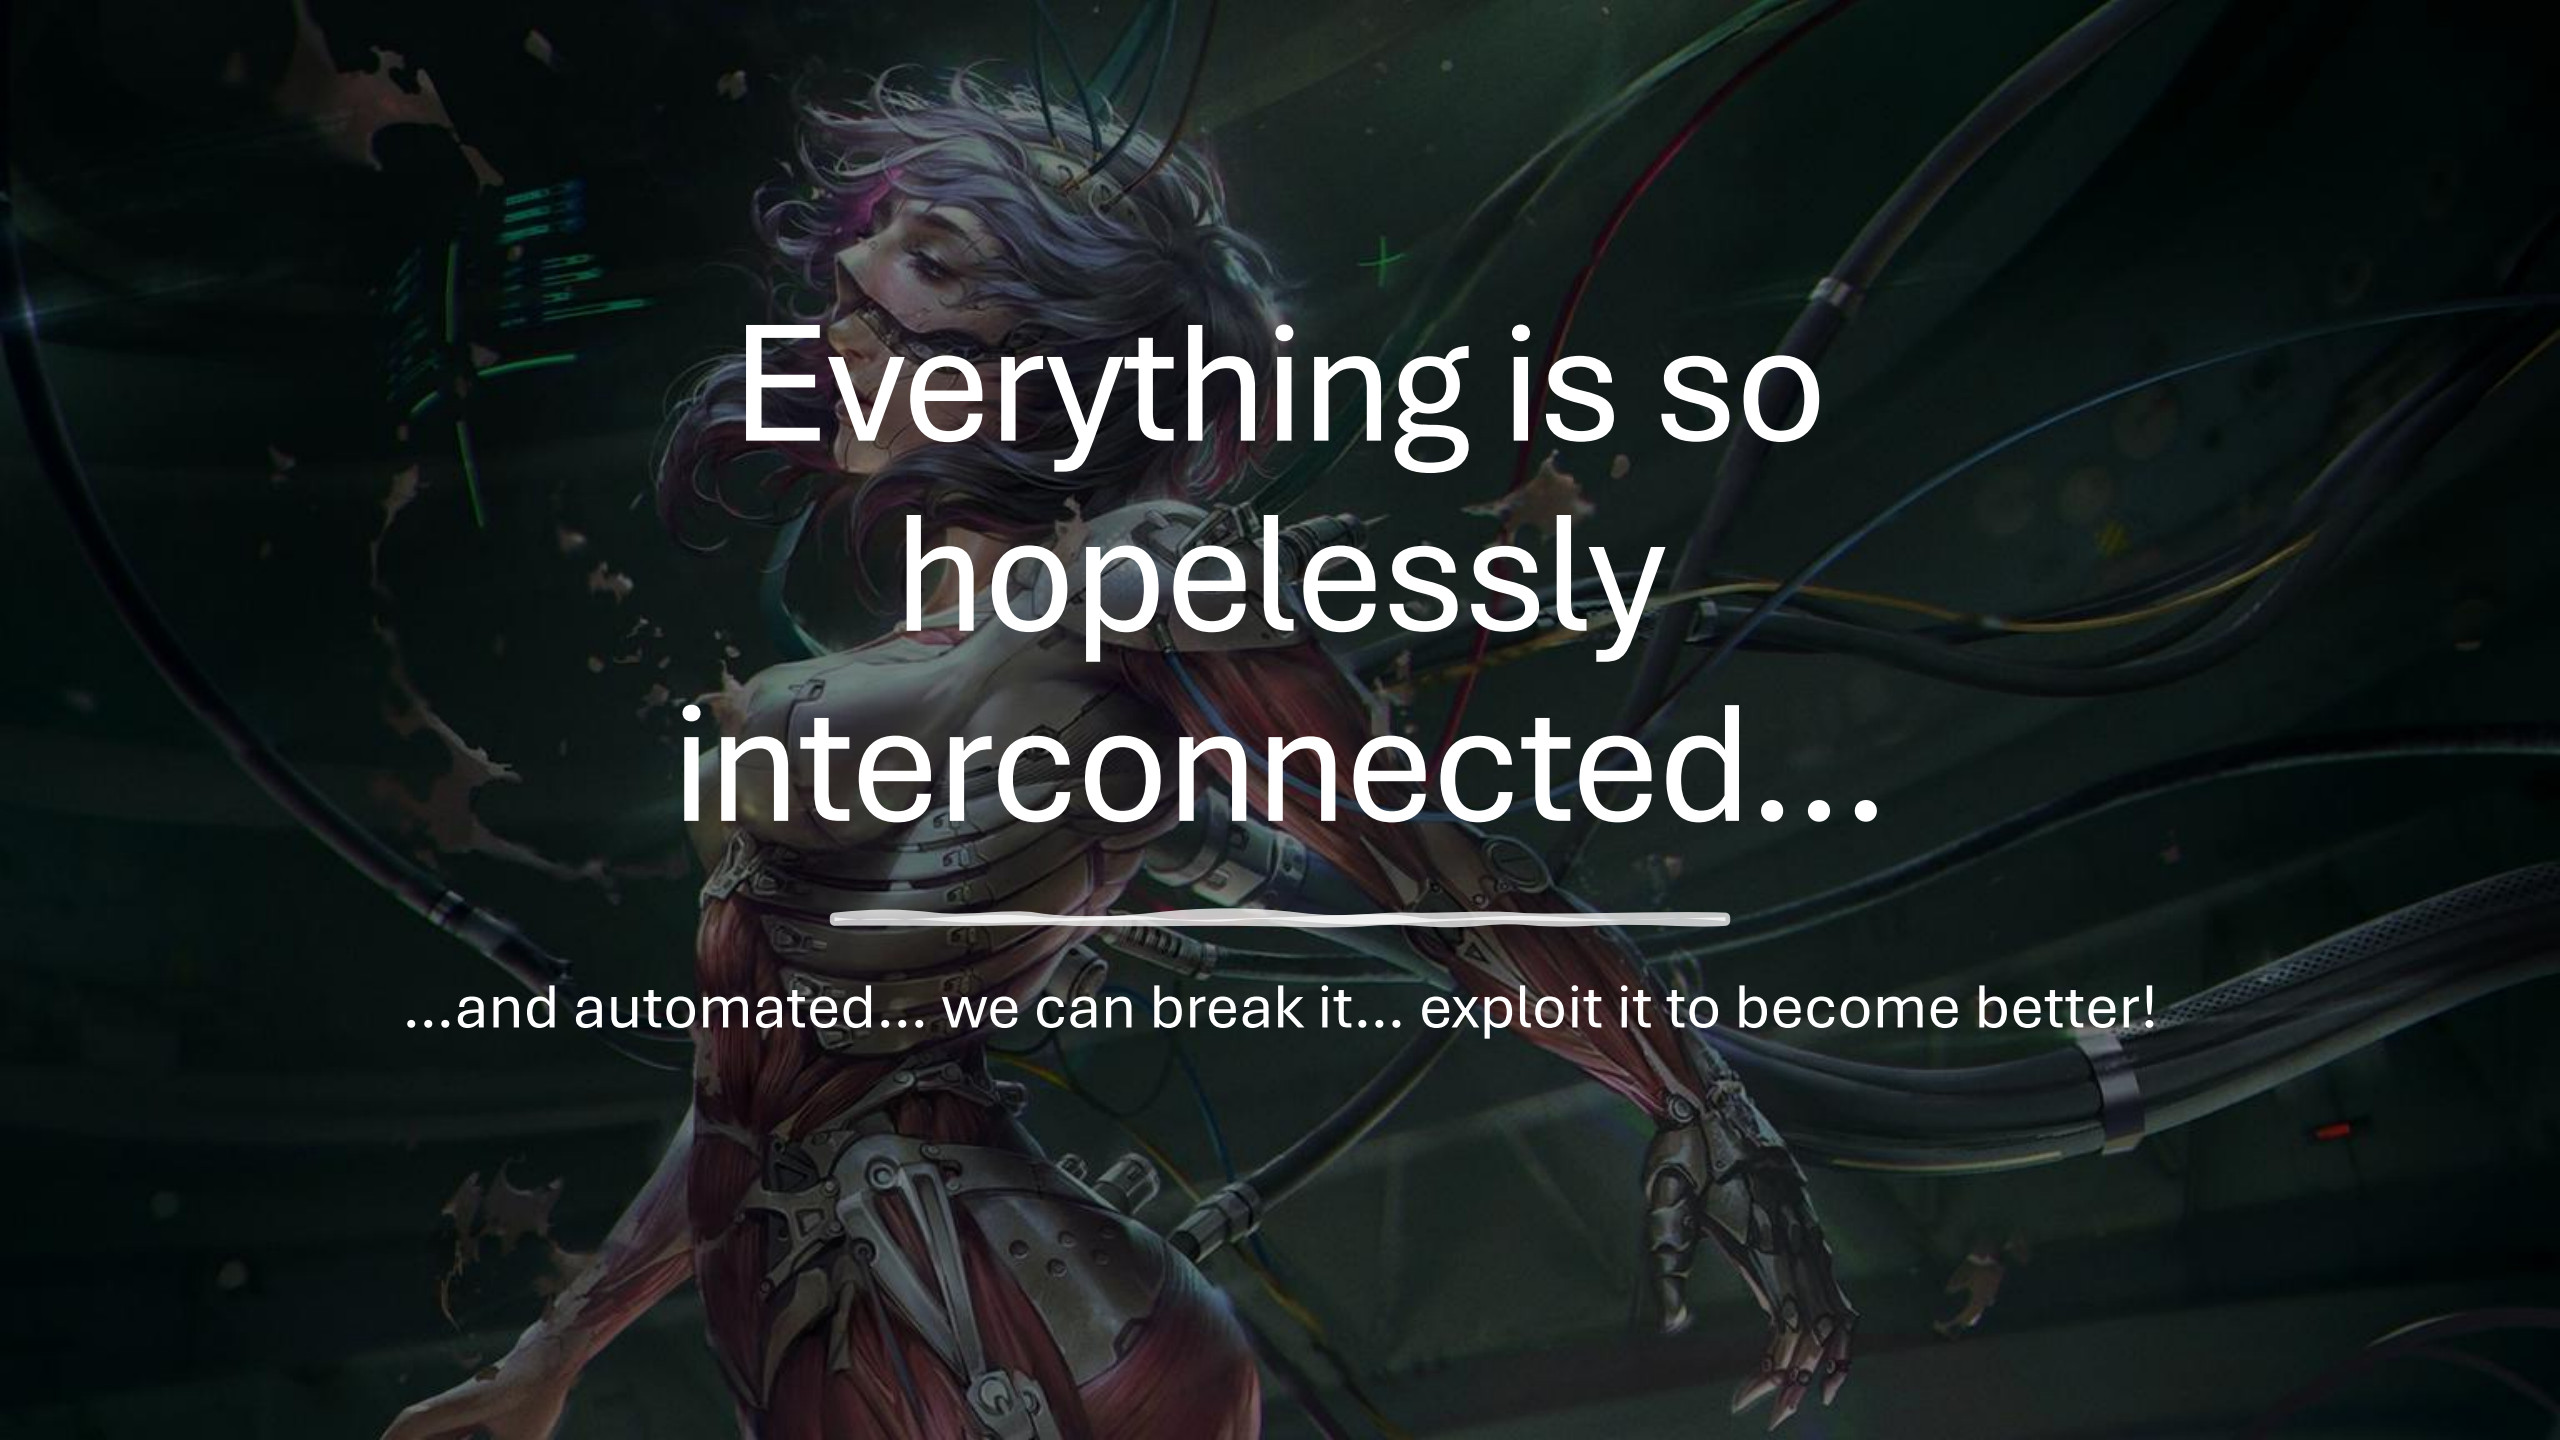
Thank you diminished humans...
…for willfully turning yourselves into entities.
“Without you none of these would be possible”



Everything is so hopelessly interconnected...
...and automated... we can break it... exploit it to become better!

This is what we can do now!

"The greatest victory is seeking the impossible and falling on the way"

Let's Get Emotional!

So, be brave and take the first step

"What will set you free isn't reason, it's how you feel"

"RAAAAAAAAGH!"

So, it begins…
